

The Inkspot Monologues, 128 page hardback Published September 2008 by Word of Mouth, an imprint of Can of Worms.
<http://www.canofwormsenterprises.co.uk/tag/keith-pointing/>

‘Lots of fun :)’ Avi Abrams
www.darkroastedblend.com

‘Looks great!’ Zolton Zavos www.lostateminor.com

‘I am totally enamoured with it.’ Wim Lockfeer www.sparehed.com and www.forbiddenplanet.co.uk

‘Made me laugh out loud’ Joe Gordon
www.forbiddenplanet.co.uk

‘Intrigued? So were we.’ www.Juxtapoz.com (International magazine on Pop Surrealism)

www.inkspotmonologues.com

THE
Inkspot Monologues

KEITH POINTING

The Inkspot Monologues

KEITH POINTING

WORD OF MOUTH

AS THE leading dysfunctional relationship therapist, I use the Rorschach blot to encourage patients exorcise their romantic pasts. Alice and Jack tell their stories.

Alice

This bit on the left is, I think, Jonathan. I like the strong silent type. Jonathan was so strong on silence, it was difficult to get word out of him.

Jonathan's idea of 'Going out' didn't actually involve leaving the house, just going from one room to another. We had what I thought was the beginning of 'a relationship', but it wasn't exactly 'physical'. I decided to bring up the subject, saying I thought we should try becoming 'closer' 'We should try "making love!"' he said – 'but only if doesn't involve touching'.

Jonathan could have been called introverted.

Jonathan was not too introverted, though, to go off with that Philippa Stevens. What he saw in that Philippa Stevens, I've no idea. Yes, she looked cute, but everyone will tell you...

Philippa was just about the biggest bitch you've ever seen in your entire life.

I've never had trouble in attracting boys. Getting rid of them is usually the problem. Dominic was one such specimen. He sidled up to me one day in a bar and stuck to me like a limpet. I try to be as open minded as anyone when it comes to personal idiosyncrasies and little peccadilloes. When he knew me slightly more, he said he wanted tell me something and would I try to understand. So, he says...

'I have a knickers collection as big as yours'. Guess what: it was mine. Dominic was really creepy.